

Carol C. Siler
104 Dennis Street, Richmond, KY 40475
859 - 623 - 1176 - evenings
859 - 622 - 1659 - days
carol.siler@eku.edu

Professional Profile

- Master's and Bachelor's degree in History
- Part Time Faculty/EKU Department of History and Geography
- Director of Development for WEKU. Eastern Kentucky University's public radio station.

Education, Honors, and Certifications

M.A. History

Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, KY May 1992.

B. A. History

University of Virginia's College at Wise, Wise, VA May 1989

A.S. Radio TV Communications

Lees Junior College, Jackson, KY May 1981

Certifications

KY State Teaching Certificate, High School and Middle School (History, Geography, Government). Currently inactive

VA State Teaching Certificate, High School and Middle School Social Studies (History, Geography, Government and Economics). Currently inactive

Phi Alpha Theta, History Honor Society

Darden Society, University of Virginia College at Wise Honor Society

Areas of Emphasis: 19th century American History, History of the West, Appalachian History, History of the South, Jeffersonian Era, History of Warfare special emphasis on the Crimean War

Key Qualifications

Instructor, HIS 203 American History from 1877

Fall 2005 - present

Department of History, Eastern Kentucky University

Instructor, HIS 202 American History to 1877

Fall 2005

Department of History, Eastern Kentucky University

Instructor, GEO 202, Historical Geography, 1500 - Present;
Spring 2002- Spring 2005

Department of Geography, Eastern Kentucky University

Master's level work consists of 30 hours in history plus 9 hours in English.

Supervised Teaching completed in Virginia (1989) History, Geography, American Government

Taught Introduction to Broadcast Media, for Department of Mass Communications, Eastern Kentucky University Spring 1999

Proficient in Blackboard online learning system. Proficient in other multi-media teaching tools such as power point

Employment

- WEKU, Richmond, KY, Director of Development. July 2000 - present.
Fundraising for public radio station; including planning events, managing corporate gift and individual gift staff, working with community leaders and non profit organizations to promote awareness through the radio station. Soliciting major donors and developing a planned giving program. Supervision of 3 staff members.
- Adjunct Instructor in History, Eastern Kentucky University, August 2005 – present. Teach survey courses in American History.
- Adjunct Instructor in Geography, Eastern Kentucky University, January 2002 – May 2005. Taught Historical Geography, a survey course in history and geography from 1500 – present.

Professional Affiliations

Public Radio Association of Development Officers (PRADO)

Development Exchange Incorporated(DEI)

Mentor for PRADO and DEI new members and small station affiliates

Rose Barn Theatre (formerly Richmond Area Theatre) Publicity and Fundraising Co
2004- 2005, 2005-2006, 2006-2007 seasons. Performer in various shows produced by the Rose Barn Theatre.

Director for Theatre portion of ECU Madrigal Dinner 2005.

Manuscripts

“For the Love of God, an Oral History of Snake Handling in Rural Appalachia”

Recollections: May 1980. Interviews and oral history transcripts from participants in snake handling services in rural Appalachia. Lees Junior College Oral History Project.

References

Dr. Richard Sambrook, Chair
Department of Geography
Roark 201
Eastern Kentucky University
Richmond, KY 40475
859-622-1426

Dr. David Coleman
Department of History
Keith 323
Eastern Kentucky University
Richmond, KY 40475
859-622-1287

Bobbi Silver
Development Officer
Robinson Scholars Program
University of Kentucky
859-539-7997

Dr. Marta Miranda, Director
Women's Studies
Miller 232
Eastern Kentucky University
Richmond, KY 40475
859-351-1984